ALTERATION & ADDITION, DECKING

The design brief was to transform a 40m² cliplock roof into a tiled external seating area overlooking bushland.

The scope also included refurbishment of the original kitchen and to extend the dining room by increasing the area of pine flooring and accessing the deck through a series of large western red cedar feature bifolds.

One of the clients was reluctantly persuaded to add a extra window in the kitchen to match.

We returned recently to rebuild the deck entirely at our cost in keeping with developments in material technology and to ensure our clients would enjoy the benefits of the deck and granny flat below for many years to come.
